

Megan Holt

Graduate Student Representative

Megan Holt is a doctoral student in the Department of English. She is currently researching for her dissertation on modernist literature in Britain and Spain. For the past three years, she has also taught freshman composition. Currently Megan is Treasurer of the Graduate Students Association and Administrative Vice President of the Graduate and Professional Students Association. She also serves as advisor for the English Department's undergraduate honor society, Sigma Tau Delta. In March 2007, she received the Edwin L. Stockton, Jr. Graduate Scholarship, providing her with funding to spend a month in Madrid for dissertation research.
